Robinia

Thanks to its resistance to abiotic and biotic influences, Robinia has a very special position among European woods.

The EN 350-2 standard classifies wood varieties according to their resistance.

Robinia is the only resistance class 1 wood variety that is cultivated in Europe.

Bark
Sapwood
Heartwood

It means that robinia is ideal for outdoor use and can be used without impregnation or supports.

We build our play equipment from Robinia which is sourced from sustainable forestry.

Spielart GmbH is FSC®-Chain of Custody certified.

Our stated age recommendations should be understood as only recommendations! Many devices can be adjusted according to the desired age group. Naturally, supervision must be guaranteed and is imperative with the useage of all playgrounds.

Conforming to standards

All our play areas are in accordance with the EN 1176 - the European standard for playground equipment. All our equipment, in particular special and custom made, will be checked after production at our factory or after assembly on-site by an independent safety inspector.
